“Multimedia Video/Audio Production” Online Course
Assignment #3: Script of Self-Introduction

1. Using the split-page format for video scripts, write a script for a 1-2 minute video that would introduce you to an audience.

2. You must include, at the least, information about your home, friends and/or family, and hobbies or interests.

3. Any number of camera shots can be used, but you must be specific about each piece of video the audience would see.

4. The audio must be word-for-word what the audience would hear in the video.

5. You may script voice over narration or plan an on-camera speaking role, but at least once in the script, you must include non-synced audio with video.

6. Be sure to have an effective beginning and appropriate conclusion.
